RALE SWEEPS ACROSS THE CENTRAL STATES

REBEL RANKS STRIFE RENT DANGER NEAR

Manchus Determined 'To Stick To Old Dynasty.

Peking, Nov. 13. — As a result of the continued failure of the threat of rebel advance to materialize, the recent panic has calmed down somewhat. The latest see-sawing reports say that Yuan Shih Kai has started for Peking. The report has further relieved anxiety, as Yuan, after announcing that the prospect of reconciling the revolutionists was almost hopeless, telegraphed later that the prospect was somewhat better. Yuan Heng seemingly is willing to discuss a compromise with a view to stopping the fighting, but his colleagues differ with him.

The differences of the rebels, indeed, hang as a dead weight upon the efforts at pacification, and may, if not soon composed, endanger Chinese liberty. There are already rumors that the Manchus have been heartened by divisions among the revolutionists and their success at Nan-king, and are preparing forcibly to uphold the dynasty and their own privileges.

Democrat Wins at Canton.

Canton, O., Nov. 13.—By an odd-even test pulled off by the board of elections Arthur Turnbull, Democrat, was declared elected mayor of Canton. By agreement, Turnbull took the even and Schilling the odd guess of the number of grains of corn dropped in a cup from a receptacle held over the head of a member of the board of elections. A count showed that the cup contained 110 grains. This made Turnbull the winner. A great crowd witnessed the drawing. The result returns Turnbull for his fourth term.

BUREAU PREDICTS SUDDEN CHANGES

Weather Bureau Says Present Week to See Capricious Weather.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The weather bureau issued the following weekly bulletin: The present week will be one of pronounced weather changes over practically the entire country. The cold wave that now covers the middle west will advance rapidly eastward and give the lowest temperatures of the season the first two days of the week throughout the eastern and southern states, and on these days abnormally low temperatures will continue in the interior districts east of the Rocky mountains. An extensive disturbance that is now off the North Pacific coast will advance slowly eastward and be attended the first part of the week by stormy weather in the North Pacific states. It will cross the Rocky mountains tomorrow, the middle west Wednesday or Thursday and the eastern states the latter part of the week; this disturbance will be preceded by a general change to warmer weather, be attended by rains in southern and rains and snows in northern districts, and will be followed by a change to colder weather over the northern half of the country.

At Tripoli—Searching a Camel
Driver For Contraband of War

ITALY'S treatment of her Arab prisoners in Tripoli has brought down upon her the condemnation of the press of nearly all civilized countries, some of which have conveniently forgotten similar episodes in their own wars with savage or barbarous tribes. Inexcusable as are the deeds of blood attributed to the combatants on both sides—the Italian cruelties are said to have been in the nature of reprisals for unspeakable treatment of their wounded by the Arabs—the latter may at least plead that their atrocities are committed in defense of their fatherland, while even if it be admitted that such indiscriminate bloodshed is an unavoidable accompaniment of an African war it may also be argued that Italy was not forced to begin hostilities, but apparently entered upon the Tripolitan adventure with a light heart in the expectation that the isolated Turkish province would prove an easy conquest. Last any arms should be brought into the city for use against themselves, the Italians have established a strict system of searching all incoming travelers, like the camel driver shown in the illustration, and some of the tales of horror that come from Tripoli relate to executions connected with these searches.

Great Suffering and Destruction of Property Follows in Wake of Awful Storm

SAMUEL GOMPERS

President of American Federation of Labor.

GOMPERS REPORTS CONDITIONS ARE GOOD

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, submitted his annual report at the opening session of that body here today.

Mr. Gompers announced that the federation, through its affiliated organizations, has the largest membership in its history, that it is sound and its prospects bright, that in a number of important strikes during the year gains have been made and that there has been a tendency to continue the shortening of the workday and to do away with child labor.

President Gompers also went into the alleged kidnapping of the McNamara brothers and told of his own testimony before the senate committee appointed to investigate the "third degree" ordeal as practiced by officers of the United States. Among other things he said:

"The committee made an extended investigation, on July 8 giving me a hearing. I made an extended argument citing numerous cases of police oppression under 'the third degree' ordeal, and particularly emphasized the kidnapping of John J. and James B. McNamara. I recited to the senate committee the details of the methods employed by the Burns detective agency men in their sensational farce tragedy circuitous routes in transporting the McNamaras to Los Angeles, evidently planned to avoid habeas corpus or other legal processes being served. I especially pointed out to the committee that it is only workmen in the United States of America upon whom such dastardly outrages are perpetrated."

Thirteen Believed to Have Perished Near Chicago.

BOATS HELD UP AT CLEVELAND

One Vessel Goes on Breakwater in Ashtabula Harbor—Marion Suffers From 60-Mile Gale, Which Does Great Damage to Wire Service. Death Follows in Wake of Storm Which Swept Over Portions of Wisconsin and Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Two boats which put out from Chicago are reported lost, and it is believed that 13 men have perished in the worst lake storms in years that swept out of the west and lashed the lake into fury, following the weather change and the sudden drop to nearly zero weather.

The Evening Star, a 75-foot gasoline fishing launch, with Captain Oscar Osmussen and a crew of five men on board, is thought to have foundered 30 miles off Waukegan, where it was last reported, apparently disabled and struggling desperately against the mountainous waves and the terrific gale. The tow barge Delta broke her hawsers and parted from the tug which had her in tow, and drifted out to sea with a crew of seven men on board.

LAKE ERIE RILED

Great Damage Done to Property Along South Shore.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—Not in 20 of Cleveland reports of devastation years has Lake Erie been hit by such a storm as that which raged all along the south shore, and from all points east and west of Cleveland reports of devastation have come. No land fatalities have been reported, but railway service, both steam and trolley, is tied up, and telephone and telegraph wires are down in all directions. All sailings from Cleveland were canceled, also from Buffalo.

At Marion much damage was done to telephone and telegraph lines by a 60-mile hurricane which hit the city and continued for two hours, when there was a cloudburst, followed by a drop of 50 degrees in temperature and a snowstorm.

At Ashtabula four hours' steady pulling by many of the tugs were required to pull the steamer Centurion off the breakwater. Incoming with ore with one tug, the tow line parted and she blew on the east all head-on.

Conneaut was snowbound. Streetcars were put out of the running and trains were running away behind time, and telephone and electric light wires were down all over the city.

The thermometer dropped 40 degrees at Findlay. The sudden fall was accompanied by a blizzard, and has caused much suffering among those not prepared for it.

Two Dead at Easton.

Chicago, Nov. 13. — The town of Easton, 13 miles east of Havana, Ill., was completely isolated from the world, and the fact that a tornado had swept the outskirts of the town and country surrounding was not made known for many hours. Two fatalities there are reported due to the storm and seven persons were injured. The loss to property has not been estimated. The dead: Mrs. Sallie Henneger, 75; died of fright when her home collapsed. Infant of Mr. and Mrs. James Prator, found 100 yards from her home, which was

STATE GRANGE IS NOW OPEN AT COLUMBUS

Columbus Is Mecca for Farmers This Week.

EIGHT ORGANIZATIONS TO MEET

Many Men Prominent in Agricultural Work Will Deliver Addresses on Subjects of Interest to Tillers of Land — Secretary Wilson Among Those Who Will Speak — Expected That More Than 2,000 Delegates Will Be Entertained by Capital City.

Columbus, O., Nov. 13.—Farmers, not only from Ohio but from all over the United States, will visit Columbus this week to be in attendance on one or more of the conventions that are booked for the period beginning this morning and ending Saturday. It is expected 2,000 men and women interested in the cause of agricultural science and the welfare of the farmer will be guests of the city. The organizations that will hold their sessions are as follows:

The Ohio State Grange, which opened today and will close tomorrow evening; the American Association for the Advancement of Agricultural Teaching, opens and closes tomorrow; the American Society of Agronomy, opened today and continues throughout the week; the Society for the Promotion of Agricultural Science, opens and closes tomorrow; the American Association of Farmers' Institute Workers, opens tomorrow and closes Wednesday; the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, opens Wednesday and closes Friday; the Association of Official Seed Analysts, opens Friday and closes

Saturday; the National Grange, last four days of the week.

Of the eight, local interest will center in the session of the State Grange and widest interest in the convention of the National Grange. The latter, it is thought, will bring 500 representatives to Columbus. It is estimated that 1,000 delegates will attend the State Grange sessions and 500 delegates will attend the sessions of other organizations.

Secretary Wilson to Speak.

The combined meetings will flood Columbus with men high in the hierarchy of farmers' organizations, also Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, presidents and deans of all agricultural colleges in the United States and the majority of the provinces of Canada. United States Senator Obadiah Gardner of Maine and Former Governor of New Hampshire Nahum Bachelier, master of the National Grange, and Philadner P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, also will come to Columbus.

One of the prominent speakers who will talk to agricultural school instructors will be M. Kaumanns, imperial German commissioner for agriculture to the United States. He will discuss "The Influence of Farmers' Associations on the Development of Agriculture in the United States."

Delegates to all of the conventions will be afforded opportunity to examine the work along agricultural lines of the Ohio State university.

Three Freeze to Death.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Three men are dead from cold and exposure and one man is dying from a skull fracture, the result of a fall on an ice-covered sidewalk, and thousands of dollars' worth of damage to property and traffic, was the heavy toll exacted by the snowstorm which arrived in Chicago on the wings of a blizzard from the far west.

PRESIDENT TAFT ENJOYS HIGH GOOD SPIRITS AT CLOSE OF TOUR

He Got in Better Touch
With People of Country.

WORRIED BY ELECTIONS

Believes That Results in Massachusetts and Ohio Have No Significance as Far as Next Year's Presidential Campaign Is Concerned. Will Start Work on Message to Congress, Which Will Be Supplemented by Special Documents.

Washington, Nov. 13. — Far from being doleful over his own or the republican party's future, President Taft is back at the White House after his 15,000-mile swing around the globe. He interprets the recent election as certain indication that the country toward the Democracy which overwhelmed the Republicans in 1910 has been halted. He does not regard results in Ohio's municipal elections, where three reliably Republican cities went Democratic, as at all significant in respect to the national election. The president declines to accept the re-election of Foss Massachusetts as a repudiation of national administration's attitude toward tariff revision. Mr. Taft is confident, in fact, that the Republican would have carried Massachusetts.

FIRST BOMB THROWN IN STRIKE

Hurled at Police, But Fails to Do Serious Damage.

New York, Nov. 13.—The first bomb-throwing of the street cleaners' strike occurred in Harlem's "Little Italy" section. Lieutenant Jones and Sergeant Hellmors, in charge of a squad on guard, were talking at the corner of Pleasant avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth street. Something hit the curb 20 feet from them. There was an explosion that jarred the ground. They heard things whistle past their ears. Glass was broken in house windows near by. Jones and Hellmors, investigating, found a jagged piece of gaspipe in the gutter. It was, they concluded, the remains of a very business-like bomb, meant either for them or for strikebreakers.

LESLIE MOORE HAS FLED TO ESCAPE UGLY CHARGE

Lodged Against Him by His Wife, Who Asks His Arrest on a Charge of Assault to Kill--The Bloomingburg Neighborhood Aroused.

Leslie Moore, thrice married and twice divorced, aged about 32 and living with his father, George Moore one mile north of Bloomingburg, is in trouble again.

This time Moore is wanted upon an affidavit filed by his wife, charging him with assault with intent to kill, the alleged assault having taken place Friday, and his wife still bears the marks of the assault of her husband it is said.

According to reports it seems that Moore is addicted to the drink habit and is very quarrelsome upon such occasions, and that he became intoxicated Friday, and after an altercation with his wife, assaulted her, and according to her story, struck her a number of times, knocking her down, and threatening to kill her.

The woman was frightened almost out of her wits, and in a half-conscious condition, leaped from the window in order to escape from her husband. One story is that he drew a revolver and threatened to kill his wife, and that she saved herself by leaping through the window to the ground below.

When Moore became aware that his wife intended having him placed under arrest for his conduct, he hurriedly left the premises. This was last Friday, and up to this time has not shown his face in the community. It is believed that he will return within a few days, and if he does his arrest for assault with intent to kill will follow at once.

This is not the first time Moore has been charged with wife beating, and it is said that his conduct has been uncalled for. His second wife, who secured a divorce from him, was treated in much the same manner, according to report, in which wife No. 3 has been treated.

Moore's reputation as a kind and affectionate husband is not good and his conduct has been the source of many and varied stories afloat in the community in which he lives. He has made his home with his father at Haines' Crossing, and besides being well known in his home neighborhood, is pretty well known in this city.

Further developments in the case are being awaited with interest, as the affair has created a great deal of excitement in the Bloomingburg neighborhood.

Some new corn is coming in, but most of it is not in good condition and some is not marketable at all. The price paid is 50c per bushel.

NEW PAVEMENTS.

Jeffersonville is now building new pavements and gutters, which are being put down on High street from railroad to cross streets, where they were not paved, and a complete new pavement and gutter is also being put down around the Gray block.

UNCULTIVATED CORN.

W. W. Williams brought home with him from North Carolina an ear of corn, grown on the reclaimed swamp land there, without cultivation, either before or after the corn was planted.

A part of a field that a year ago was under water, was drained by the dredge now in operation there. The corn was planted among the logs and brush and no attempt was made to cultivate it.

The corn grew and matured and will make 40 to 50 bushels to the acre.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Cold Hands and Cold Feet.
Coldness of the hands and feet suggests a bad circulation of blood. The treatment must consist of taking a course of internal tonic which will improve the circulation and blood, and one containing a proportion of iron is most suitable. You must also eat plenty of plain, nourishing food, with a fair amount of sugar and fats at regular hours, and chew all food thoroughly. Drink cocoa instead of tea or coffee and avoid alcohol. Brisk daily exercise will also promote better circulation, and deep breathing exercise will help to increase storage of oxygen in the blood. Take a cold or tepid plunge each morning, followed by a brisk rub down with a rough towel till the skin glows.

Petition for the Resignation Of Memorial Hall Trustees

Filing of the Document Is the Occasion of Surprise and Comment.

Commissioners Decline to Adopt Resolution Presented by Petitioners.

REQUEST TRUSTEES TO CONFER

Saturday Next Is Day Fixed for Conference—Amos Thornton Withdraws and Expresses Indignation.

The petition filed with the Board of County Commissioners, signed by some 49 members of the G. A. R. and asking for the removal of the Memorial Hall Board of Trustees, has caused a great deal of surprise and comment throughout the city and county.

Those who signed the petition are H. C. Denious, Amos D. Lindsey, Jas. M. Newland, Vincent Melley, W. D. Cole, Chas. M. Epperson, A. W. White, H. P. White, E. Purnell, M. F. Stuckey, Wesley Rader, Henry Jester, Henry L. Limes, Geo. Fay, John Updyke, Chris. Reichert, Chas. Ramsay, J. Kellhofer, Geo. Duffee, Isaac P. Smithers, J. Lindsey, M. J. Sturgeon, John Daniels, J. Koontz, Henry Martz, S. C. Phillips, A. M. Miller, J. Hartman, Fred Swartz, John Arnold, Joseph Rogers, Lewis F. Stolzenburg, John Coughlin.

Accompanying the petition the following resolution was presented for the commissioners to adopt, but which was not adopted:

"Resolved, That the Board of Commissioners of Fayette county, Ohio, at a meeting held at the Court House in said county on November 11, 1911, hereby requests the immediate resignation of the present Board of Trustees of the Memorial Hall building, in said city, and demand that they make an accounting of all receipts and expenditures of whatsoever character, and kind, since their appointments; and this they shall do on or after Nov. 1911."

Ignoring this proffered resolution the Commissioners passed one requesting the Auditor to notify the Memorial Hall trustees to meet in consultation with them on Saturday, November 18th, to go into the complaint made by the petitioners. Mr. Amos Thornton, who had attached his name to the petition, appeared at the Auditor's office Monday morning, and removed his name from the petition. He appeared very indignant, and stated that the entire affair had been misrepresented to him, and that he was 'lead to believe it was everything else but what it really was.'

The Memorial Hall Trustees are the following well known and prominent citizens who were greatly surprised over the filing of the petition: Col. B. H. Millikan, Capt. E. A. Ramsey, George F. Robinson, James McLean, J. W. Duffee and I. N. Rowe.

LESLIE MOORE HAS FLED TO ESCAPE UGLY CHARGE

Lodged Against Him by His Wife, Who Asks His Arrest on a Charge of Assault to Kill—The Bloomingburg Neighborhood Aroused.

Leslie Moore, thrice married and twice divorced, aged about 32 and living with his father, George Moore one mile north of Bloomingburg, is in trouble again.

This time Moore is wanted upon an affidavit filed by his wife, charging him with assault with intent to kill, the alleged assault having taken place Friday, and his wife still bears the marks of the assault of her husband it is said.

According to reports it seems that Moore is addicted to the drink habit and is very quarrelsome upon such occasions, and that he became intoxicated Friday, and after an altercation with his wife, assaulted her, and according to her story, struck her a number of times, knocking her down, and threatening to kill her.

The woman was frightened almost out of her wits, and in a half-conscious condition, leaped from the window in order to escape from her husband. One story is that he drew a revolver and threatened to kill his wife, and that she saved herself by leaping through the window to the ground below.

When Moore became aware that his wife intended having him placed under arrest for his conduct, he hurriedly left the premises. This was last Friday, and up to this time has not shown his face in the community. It is believed that he will return within a few days, and if he does his arrest for assault with intent to kill will follow at once.

This is not the first time Moore has been charged with wife beating, and it is said that his conduct has been uncalled for. His second wife, who secured a divorce from him, was treated in much the same manner, according to report, in which wife No. 3 has been treated.

Moore's reputation as a kind and affectionate husband is not good and his conduct has been the source of many and varied stories afloat in the community in which he lives. He has made his home with his father at Haines' Crossing, and besides being well known in his home neighborhood, is pretty well known in this city.

Further developments in the case are being awaited with interest, as the affair has created a great deal of excitement in the Bloomingburg neighborhood.

UNCULTIVATED CORN.

W. W. Williams brought home with him from North Carolina an ear of corn, grown on the reclaimed swamp land there, without cultivation, either before or after the corn was planted.

A part of a field that a year ago was under water, was drained by the dredge now in operation there. The corn was planted among the logs and brush and no attempt was made to cultivate it.

The corn grew and matured and will make 40 to 50 bushels to the acre.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Cold Hands and Cold Feet.
Coldness of the hands and feet suggests a bad circulation of blood. The treatment must consist of taking a course of internal tonic which will improve the circulation and blood, and one containing a proportion of iron is most suitable. You must also eat plenty of plain, nourishing food, with a fair amount of sugar and fats at regular hours, and chew all food thoroughly. Drink cocoa instead of tea or coffee and avoid alcohol. Brisk daily exercise will also promote better circulation, and deep breathing exercise will help to increase storage of oxygen in the blood. Take a cold or tepid plunge each morning, followed by a brisk rub down with a rough towel till the skin glows.

Petition for the Resignation Of Memorial Hall Trustees

Filing of the Document Is the Occasion of Surprise and Comment.

Commissioners Decline to Adopt Resolution Presented by Petitioners.

REQUEST TRUSTEES TO CONFER

The petition filed with the Board of County Commissioners, signed by some 49 members of the G. A. R. and asking for the removal of the Memorial Hall Board of Trustees, has caused a great deal of surprise and comment throughout the city and county.

Those who signed the petition are H. C. Denious, Amos D. Lindsey, Jas. M. Newland, Vincent Melley, W. D. Cole, Chas. M. Epperson, A. W. White, H. P. White, E. Purnell, M. F. Koontz, Henry Martz, S. C. Phillips, A. M. Miller, J. Hartman, Fred Swartz, John Arnold, Joseph Rogers, Lewis F. Stolzenburg, John Coughlin.

Accompanying the petition the following resolution was presented for the commissioners to adopt, but which was not adopted:

"Resolved, That the Board of Commissioners of Fayette county, Ohio, at a meeting held at the Court House in said county on November 11, 1911, hereby requests the immediate resignation of the present Board of Trustees of the Memorial Hall building, in said city, and demand that they make an accounting of all receipts and expenditures of whatsoever character, and kind, since their appointments; and this they shall do on or after Nov. ... 1911."

Ignoring this proffered resolution the Commissioners passed one requesting the Auditor to notify the Memorial Hall trustees to meet in consultation with them on Saturday, November 18th, to go into the complaint made by the petitioners.

Mr. Amos Thornton, who had attached his name to the petition, appeared at the Auditor's office Monday morning, and removed his name from the petition. He appeared very indignant, and stated that the entire affair had been misrepresented to him, and that he was 'lead to believe it was everything else but what it really was.'

The Memorial Hall Trustees are the following well known and prominent citizens who were greatly surprised over the filing of the petition: Col. B. H. Millikan, Capt. E. A. Ramsey, George F. Robinson, James McLean, J. W. Duffee and I. N. Rowe.

TELEPHONES—HOME No. 137, BELL, MAIN No. 170

GENEROUS BUT NOT JUST.

The story of Dr. Grenfell's heroic and self-sacrificing work among the Newfoundland fishermen has stirred the entire English-speaking world. American physicians are as proud of him as are his English confreres, since science is international and knows no boundaries. The fact that this noble physician won an American girl as his wife has only increased the sense of pride and proprietorship which all America feels in him. Nor has our enthusiasm limited itself to applause. An American business man, Mr. George B. Cluett of New York, has donated a fine new schooner as an auxiliary to Dr. Grenfell's hospital ship. Two auxiliary yaws have been presented by American college students. Many American dollars have gone to help Dr. Grenfell in his noble work. This is right, and it is to be hoped that means for this purpose may never be lacking. Yet the amazing fact has recently become known in an editorial in The Journal of the American Medical Association that while America has been helping generously to provide hospital ships and surgeons for the fishermen of Newfoundland and Labrador, our own American fishermen, from Cape Ann and Gloucester and Marblehead, have been dependent for aid in time of need on the charity of a French hospital ship. It is not gratifying to our sense of pride and independence to know that at the very time we were giving with a lavish hand to our heroic neighbor on the north, our own sailors were forced to accept from a foreign vessel the aid our own country had withheld. Such neglect of our own is due only to ignorance and surely, now that the facts are known, there will be no lack of money and men to supply this shameful lack. If Congress does not make provision for a United States hospital ship for our fishermen, private philanthropy should see to it that we no longer suffer under the charge of being unjust and neglectful of our own, at the same time that we are generous with our neighbors.

Lower Wage Earner's Standard of Living

By LORA BELL

Isn't it about time that we stopped demanding of American labor that it lower its standard of living to that of the foreign laborer? If bean soup and rye bread is a better diet than meat and white bread by all means argue for bean soup and rye bread, but recommend them as foods for all classes and not simply for the workingman so that he can live more cheaply. Start the reform where people have got farthest away from the simple food idea—in the high priced clubs and hotels and the millionaires' homes. That is where it is most needed.

There is no reason why a workingman should be forced to eat food that is distasteful to him simply because it is cheap, while the more fortunate members of society can live on the choicest of the workers' produce.

Why shouldn't the workingmen have carpets on their floors? Who is better entitled to them? Would any of us have carpets, or Axminster or Persian rugs, either, or floors of any kind to lay them on, if these workingmen did not produce them? And as to their filling their rooms with flimsy gimcracks it surely is better for them to satisfy their craving for beauty in this way than to stifle it entirely.

Let us remember that society has not supplied the toiler with an education to appreciate Mona Lisas or cloisonne vases, or the purses to indulge such tastes.

But it is surely a more hopeful sign that he wishes to beautify his home in some way than if he were satisfied with bare walls and bare floors.

What we need is not ways to lower the wage earner's standard of living but ways to distribute more equitably the wealth he produces so that he can develop and gratify higher tastes.

The producer of wealth is entitled to the best there is and it is time we found some way to keep that best from going to the idlers.

Many Modern Social and Family Changes

By A. WANGEMAN
Chicago

As to complaints regarding ungrateful and disobedient children, the fault lies, it seems to me, neither with the average parents nor with the callous, superficial young persons. It is not an individual trouble of individual families, in the main, but rather a result of the present money mad, sensation chasing general public spirit, with its cynical and heartless lack of morality.

Nothing else but such tragedies of family life can be reasonably expected when as in Chicago the young folks are forced to fight for jobs without living wages, tempted on all sides and out of touch with the better thoughts of the times. Parents should realize that the young cannot think of life as the experienced older ones do.

The young must go through practically the same cycle of personal experiences as the old did when they in turn were young and struck out for themselves.

And, again, many a mother's heart, strong in her maternal instincts, has been broken because not all mothers have the worldly wisdom to change into "comrades" of their grown offspring. It is the natural course that parents should resign themselves, but how hard that is!

Those who look deeper into these things realize, furthermore, that we live in an age of deep social changes in all human relations, which, of course, change the conditions of the family life most profoundly. This is, however, not the place to talk "economics" as the key of understanding.

There is no "balm of Gilead" in economics for a mother whose heart cries out in anguish for the children she has borne and brought up in years of never ceasing care and love; children who then turn away in disdain too often—the young fools!

MARRIAGE.

Treasure the shadow. Somewhere firmly based Arise those turrets that in cloud-land shine;
Somewhere, to thirsty toilers of the waste,
Yon phantom wellspring is a living sign.
Treasure the shadow. Somewhere past thy sight,
Past all men's sight, waits the true heaven at last.
Tell them whose fears would put thy hopes to flight
There are no shadows save by substance cast.

President Taft Enjoys High Good Spirits

setts by at least 75,000 if this had been a national campaign year. Many reports have been circulated recently in regard to the president's doleful spirits over the political outlook. These have been based for the most part on a statement made by him in his recent Chicago speech. He declared on that occasion that while some folks thought a crisis was at hand for the Republican party, he was hopeful that the people of the country had only chastened the party a bit in an off year, with no intention of making a further change. The president added that in the event of the country desiring a change, he and other Republicans would loyally support the new government. It was the latter statement that was immediately grabbed as an admission of hopelessness on the president's part. It has embarrassed the president's supporters, some of the rumors growing out of it going so far as to say that the president was thinking of withdrawing from the candidacy.

Sincerity Is Deep.

Nobody who talked with the president after his return could doubt the genuineness of his belief in the prospects of the Republican party. While the president has contended that he did not undertake his trip around the country for politics, it is apparent that he feels considerable satisfaction in having laid before the people of nearly every part of the country his views and ambitions in regard to the national issues. The president returns to Washington deeply impressed with the cordiality of the receptions he received on his long trip. Upon his return he finds himself confronted with the task of writing what will probably be the most important message he ever sent to congress.

The plan of the president and his advisors at present is to make his annual message as brief as possible, and then to deal with several important subjects in detail in special messages. Besides the tariff and legislation supplementing the Sherman anti-trust law, the president will undoubtedly recommend in his message the creation of a permanent tariff board, the institution of a parcels post, legislation affecting Alaska, currency reform and the passage of the general arbitration treaties.

It was learned that the president's attitude toward legislation affecting the Sherman anti-trust law has been misunderstood. The president is not opposed to legislation supplementing the present act. He is against efforts to amend so as to emasculate or change its present meaning. As supplementing the Sherman anti-trust law, the president intends to recommend to congress again his federal incorporation act.

Prince Must Chew His Words

Emperor William Punishes Crown Prince For Indiscretion.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—The Kaiser is reported to have directed the crown prince to apologize to the chancellor for his acts in applauding the speech of Dr. Von Helldorf in the Reichstag, and to undergo a few days' detention at his residence at Danzig.

If the report be true, the directions no doubt will be obeyed, as the Hohenzollern family rules give the head of the family absolute power over all members. The detention, of course, would be a mere formality which, according to current belief, the crown prince has undergone more than once because of indiscretions.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Elam Harnish, known as "Burning Daylight," celebrates his 30th birthday with a friendly crowd of miners at the Circle City Hotel. He is a general favorite, and a pioneer in the new gold fields. The dance leads to heavy gambling in which over $100,000 is staked. Harnish loses his money and his mine but wins a mail contract of the district.

CHAPTER II.—Burning Daylight starts on his trip to deliver the mail with dogs and sleds. He tells his friends that the day he intends to be in it at the start. With Indian attendants and dogs he goes over the bank and down the frozen Yukon and in the gray light is gone.

CHAPTER III.—Harnish makes a sensational rapid run across country with the mail, appears at the Yukon and there he makes a characteristic celebration. He has a record against cold and exhaustion and is now ready to join his friends in a dash to the new gold fields.

CHAPTER IV.—Harnish decides where the gold will be found in the up-river district and buys two tons of flour, which he declares will be worth its weight in gold before the season is over.

CHAPTER V.—When Daylight arrives with his heavy outfit of flour he finds the big flat desolate. A comrade disappears and Harnish reaps a rich harvest. He goes to Dawson, begins investing in corn lots and staking other ventures and becomes the most prominent figure in the Klondike.

CHAPTER VI.—Harnish makes fortune after fortune. One lucky investment enables him to defeat a great combination of capitalists in a vast mining deal. He determines to return to civilization and give a farewell celebration to his friends that is remembered as a kind of blaze of glory.

CHAPTER VII.—The papers are full of the King of the Klondike, and Daylight is led by the money magnates of the country. They take him into a big house and he is the Alaskan pioneer of the day.

CHAPTER VIII.—Daylight is lured by the moneyed men and finds that he has been led to invest his eleven millions in a manipulated scheme. He goes to meet his disloyal business partners at their offices in New York City.

CHAPTER IX.—Confronting his partner with a revolver in his characteristic style, he threatens to kill them if they do not return. They are allowed into submission, return their stolen money and Harnish goes back to San Francisco with his unimpaired fortune.

CHAPTER X.—Daylight meets his fate with a crippled brother, whom she cares for. Harnish is much attracted towards her and interested in her family affairs.

CHAPTER XI.—He becomes an element in large investments on the Pacific coast and goes to inspect one of his properties in the country and momentarily is attracted back to the old life on the lone mountain.

CHAPTER XII.—Daylight gets deeper and deeper into high finance in San Francisco. He makes frequent runs into the country thus getting close to nature, but his mind is still in the speculation trend. Very often, however, the longing for the simple life well nigh overcomes him.

CHAPTER XIII.—Dede Mason buys a little cabin. Daylight meets her in her back-siding and manages to get into her company quite often.

CHAPTER XIV.—One day Daylight goes to see with him on one move and she begins to ask her to marry him, and they carry away, she trying to analyze her feelings.

CHAPTER XV.—Dede tells daylight that she likes him but that her happiness would not lie with a money manipulator. She suggests the vast good he could do with his wealth if so inclined.

CHAPTER XVI.—For the sake of his brother, Daylight undertakes the scheme of buying up a great industrial community in the hills. He wins her regard by devoting himself to her crippled brother.

first evening, missing him, Dede sought and found him, lamp in hand, staring with silent glee at the tubs. He rubbed his hand over their smooth wooden lips and laughed aloud, and was as shame-faced as any boy when she caught him thus secretly exulting in his own prowess.

It was this adventure in wood-working and plumbing that brought about the building of the little workshop, where he slowly gathered a collection of loved tools. And he, who in the old days, out of his millions, could purchase immediately whatever he might desire, learned the new joy of the possession that follows upon rigid economy and desire long delayed. He waited three months before daring the extravagance of a Yankee screw-driver, and his glee in the marvelous little mechanism was so keen that Dede conceived forthright a great idea. For six months she saved her egg-money, which was hers by right of allotment, and on his birthday presented him with a turning-lathe of wonderful simplicity and multifarious efficiencies. And their mutual delight in the lathe, which was his, was only equalled by their delight in Mab's first foal, which was Dede's special private property.

Daylight had made no assertion of total abstinence, though he had not taken a drink for months after the acquescent.

"Say," He Called Out, "I'd Like to Tackle You Again."

"We'll cut across by Bennett Valley," he said. "It's nearer that way."

There was little difficulty, once in Santa Rosa, of finding Slosson. He and his party had registered at the Oberlin Hotel, and Daylight encountered the young hammer-thrower himself in the office.

"Look here, son," Daylight announced, as soon as he had introduced Dede, "I've come to go you another flutter at that hand game. Here's a likely place."

Slosson smiled and accepted. The two men faced each other, the elbows of their right arms on the counter, the hands clasped. Slosson's hand quickly forced backward and down.

"You're the first man that ever succeeded in doing it," he said. "Let's try it again."

"Sure," Daylight answered. "And don't forget, son, that you're the first man that put mine down. That's why I lit out after you today"

COUNTRY IS SWEEPED OVER BY AILMENT

Nervous Debility Has Been Cause of Most of the Ills of the People of America.

The hustle and worry and strain of modern life has produced a modern ailment. This modern ailment is nervous debility and during the past ten years it has swept over the country like wild-fire.

Today a large percentage of the population, particularly city dwellers, are afflicted with nervous debility or a "run-down" condition as it is called.

The chief symptoms of this modern complaint are lack of vitality and energy, nervousness and stomach trouble, weak back, poor circulation, constipation and insomnia.

Old fashioned remedies failing, a modern tonic was introduced in Europe to overcome this trouble. The medicine was an instantaneous success and a similar tonic is now meeting with tremendous success in this country. The tonic is called Tona Vita and it builds up run-down people in a few weeks' time.

Are you a victim of this miserable, run-down, half-sick, tired-all-the-time condition? Are you nervous and despondent? Do you lack energy and ambition? If so, you have nervous debility and the wisest possible thing you can do is to let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health and strength as it has done for thousands of others. You will be astonished how quickly this great modern tonic will make you feel as though made over.

Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the assistant remedy, is used in cases of chronic constipation. Rhubarb is the finest of all natural laxatives. Other drugs strain and weaken the intestines, rhubarb strengthens them. Lee's Rhubarb Laxative is an ideal family medicine and should be given to children in preference to all others. The taste is pleasant.

Brown's Drug Store have the agency for these two great medicines in Washington C. H., and will refund your money if you are not completely satisfied with them.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Brown's Drug Store.

EVERYBODY'S BIBLE QUESTION BOX

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERED IN THESE COLUMNS, OR BY MAIL IF SENT TO THE EDITOR OF THIS JOURNAL

Q.—Please explain why the Scriptures refer to God's special care over the fatherless and the widow and says nothing about the widower and the motherless? It seems to me that where the wife and mother is taken away it is much sadder than where the husband and father is removed from the family circle.

Answer.—In many places in the Scriptures the expression "fatherless," in the original language in which the Bible was written, has the significance of bereaved or orphans. The thought is that the Lord's special care and compassion are over the weak, helpless and the bereaved ones, and not that He has less consideration for the motherless than for the fatherless. We read 'The Lord is gracious and full of compassion; slow to anger and of great mercy. The Lord is good to all; and His tender mercies are over all His works. The Lord raiseth them that are bowed down; the Lord loveth the righteous, and preserveth the stranger; He relieveth the fatherless and widow; but the way of the wicked He turneth upside down'—Psalms cxlv, 9, 10; cxlvi, 8, 9. Again we read—"A broken and a contrite heart, O God, Thou wilt not despise." (Psalm li, 17). All those who are mourning and sorrowful, who will draw nigh unto God through Christ, will be comforted whether they are motherless or fatherless; widowers or widows.

Applicant's Evidence Failed In the Wood Divorce Case

Husband and Wife Make It All Up in Approved Fashion—
When Mother-in-law Is Met the Wife Again Leaves Her Husband.

The divorce case of Mary Wood against Milton Wood was tried in Probate court, Saturday, and proved somewhat novel. The defendant was charged with gross neglect of duty of being addicted to the drink habit and not providing for his family.

The evidence submitted did not indicate that such was the case, and when the plaintiff's father was placed upon the stand in an effort to prove that the defendant was a drunkard, he stated that he had never seen the man drunk. Attorney for the defendant, ee Rankin, took advantage of evidence offered by the plaintiff's witnesses, and put them on the stand for the defendant, and their evidence was such that a consultation was held between the attorneys, and efforts made to effect a reconciliation.

It was a short time only until the pair had embraced, kissed and "made up" in approved style, and the woman, in company with the sheriff went to the residence of Mrs. Wood's mother on Gregg street to secure the children. When they arrived it is said that the mother-in-law "threw a fit" and acted in such a manner that Mrs. Wood weakened and finally refused to go back to her husband, remaining with her mother.

The entire affair was so unusual that it has caused a great deal of comment among those who are familiar with the circumstances.

Wake Up With a "Dark Brown Taste"?

Get Rid of It! Run for OLIVE TABLETS

There isn't the slightest need to wake up any morning with a "brown mouth." Ugh! No need to describe it.

Dr. Edwards has made "brown mouth" a thing of the past in thousands of homes with his little Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver and bowels, never has "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a pimply face, constipation or any other form of bowel or liver disorder.

Take one just the moment you suspect you are constipated or that your liver is out of order.

Thousands take one at bedtime every night just to keep the bowels regular, the liver in order, the mouth clean and the breath pure and sweet.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent 17 years in practice and in laboratory experiments before he perfected Olive Tablets.

Why don't you try them instead of the severe kind of laxatives that gripe and only effect temporary relief?

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

At all drug stores in neat pocket packages. At 10c and 25c.

HOW IS THIS?

Woman Appears and Claims to Be Wife of Billy Fenton, the Picture Show Singer---Denies It Later.

With one wife upon his heels, and living with wife No. 2 is the unusual situation in which "Billy Fenton" finds himself if the allegations of Mrs. M. W. Logan, who appeared here Sunday night from Ashland, Ky., are true.

Fenton is the man who has been singing at some of the moving picture shows in this city, and who married Miss Ethel May Dixon, daughter of M. W. Dixon, of New Holland, June 1, 1911. Fenton became acquainted with Miss Dixon in this city, and their marriage followed.

Sunday evening Mrs. M. W. Logan and sister appeared at the Arlington hotel and stopped for the night, and Mrs. Logan stated that she was the wife of Billy Fenton, whose right name, she alleged, was Logan. She stated that Logan deserted her some eighteen months ago, and she has since been searching for him. Mrs. Logan was well dressed and seemed in prosperous circumstances. She grew hysterical when informed that "Billy" was married.

She was informed that Fenton was at New Holland, where his wife's parents live. Monday morning she left on the first train for New Holland, stating that she would use the law upon him. Just what occurred at New Holland has not come to light, further than Fenton announced that two of his "sisters" had appeared unexpectedly.

Fenton is billed to sing at one of the moving picture shows in this city tonight, and it remains to be seen whether he keeps the engagement.

According to the woman's story, Fenton is a real, live bigamist.

Late Monday afternoon The Herald called Mr. Dixon, father-in-law of Billy Fenton, and asked him concerning the affair. Mr. Dixon was at the C. & C. depot at the time, assisting Mrs. Logan and her sister on the train. Fenton was with them. Mr. Dixon stated that Mrs. Logan had informed him that she was Mr. Fenton's half sister, and that he had never seen her before. He had heard nothing of Mrs. Logan claiming that Fenton was her husband. The entire party were bound for this city.

Chestnut Is Apprehended

Arrested at Waverly and Placed in Prison in This City by
By Deputy Sheriff Ol Nelson

Deputy Sheriff Ol Nelson went to Waverly Saturday night in search of Joe Chestnut, wanted in this city upon a charge of assault and battery preferred against him by Constable J. T. Oatneal, as a result of an attack made upon Oatneal last Wednesday while he was discharging his duties as an officer.

Chestnut left soon after the trouble, and it was believed that he was with an aunt, Mrs. Shoemaker, some ten miles from Waverly. Deputy Sheriff Nelson soon discovered that Chestnut had been seen there, and that he was at the residence of his aunt. He went to the place and made the arrest, bringing his prisoner to this city Sunday evening, and lodging him in the county jail.

Considerable interest centers in Chestnut's arrest, as he was under a $200 peace bond, and his recent trouble causes the bond to be forfeited. The case will probably be tried this afternoon.

Small Cyclone Near Jeffersonville

Between 3 and 4 o'clock Sunday morning a small tornado dipped down some four miles north of Jeffersonville, covering a strip of territory about 300 yards wide and a mile in length, and wrecking buildings and fences, and creating havoc generally.

On the Walter Brock farm part of the barn was destroyed, together with a great deal of rail fence. On the A. J. Brock farm the fences were blown down, and outbuildings damaged. Corn and fodder in the storm's path was picked up and scattered over the surrounding country. Great trees were twisted and torn up by roots.

On Cary Hatfield's farm the barn was partially wrecked and the falling timber injured a horse so that it had to be killed. It was the worst storm that ever struck the neighborhood, and those who resided in the path of the tornado were frightened almost out of their wits.

A NATURAL KITCHEN

Eggs Cooked in the Hot Springs of Mexico.

Heated Waters Have Been Known for Their Medicinal and Curative
Properties Since Country
Was First Explored.

Candelaria, Mex.—One of the most remarkable groups of hot springs in the world is situated on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande near here. There are scores of these bubbling streams of water flowing from the rock formation and into a gulch that empties into the Rio Grande. The waters of these springs have been known for their medicinal and curative properties from the time of the first exploration and settlement of Mexico. Thousands of afflicted people have made pilgrimages to this remote region and sought the benefits of the thermal springs. Notwithstanding the fact that they are situated in an almost inaccessible locality and can only be reached by an overland journey of more than 50 miles from the nearest railroad point there is never a time that health seekers may not be found camping at the place.

There are no accommodations at the springs for visitors and many are the primitive and crude devices that are rigged up to obtain the benefit of the waters. Frequently visitors construct crude adobe rooms over one of the springs and use them for sweat boxes. The bath tubs usually consist of digging a hole in the ground and letting it fill with the hot water, the health seeker taking his outdoor bath in that water perhaps a canvass for a canopy to keep out the blazing sun. There is not such a thing as a hotel or eating house within many miles of the place. The visitors must bring their own supplies and live next to nature during their stay, whether it be brief or greatly prolonged.

The waters of these springs are said to be good for many chronic ills. That a great number of cures that are little short of marvelous have taken place as a result of drinking and bathing in them is a matter of common knowledge to the people of the border section.

One of the phenomena of the group of springs is that water having a temperature as high as 188 degrees may be flowing from a crevice in the rock at one point, and within two or three feet of it another stream of water of a temperature of less than 100 degrees. Most of the water, however, is very hot, that of the different springs ranging in temperature from 110 to 188 degrees Fahrenheit. This hot water, where it empties into small pools, is used for cooking purposes by the campers almost to the exclusion of fire. Eggs are cooked in six to eight minutes, and by placing beans in the springs over night they are thoroughly done by morning. One of the interesting and picturesque sights of the place is the cooking operations of the campers. Meat is also cooked in this manner.

In the days when the Comanche and other tribes of Indians roamed through West Texas these hot springs were used by them as nature's sanitarium for the sick members of the different tribes. The older inhabitants of this region well remember that in the earlier days there was never a time that a group of Indian teepees were not located at the springs.

BRIDE TOO AFFECTIONATE

Smeared the Soft Stuff on So Thick
That Her Husband Tried Suicide.

St. Louis, Mo.—Philip H. Nickerson of this city, who slashed the arteries of his wrists in an attempt to end his life, said, at the city hospital, that he tried to kill himself because his bride was too affectionate. Nickerson has been married only seven months.

"I'm fond of my wife," he said, "and I want her to be fond of me. But there is a limit to all things. A man needs a little independence. Since I married I have had little peace. My wife has denied me the right to read and smoke."

"She wants to sit continually upon my lap and hug and kiss me. If I light my pipe while she is about she comes to me and then complains of the smoke. If I stand up she stands up too, and places her arms about me and kisses me until I can hardly breathe. It got upon my nerves."

Sadly Afflicted Touching Picture

Stretched out upon the poorest of poor beds, with his little white face pinched and drawn with suffering, his big, sad eyes surrounded by dark rings, and his shrunken body covered by a badly worn quilt, a very small boy, member of a family of nine, is slowly dying in a little one-room hut in northern Fayette, while all about is plenty—even luxury.

The lad, who is less than ten years of age, is suffering from inflammatory rheumatism, brought on by the unhealthy conditions of his surroundings, it is claimed, and the Angel of Death hovers over the little hut, awaiting the time when the little fellow's sufferings become too much for his frail body, and, in mercy, free him from the world of pain and suffering.

The family recently moved to this county from Lawrence county, and are so poverty stricken that the baby, only a few months old, has been sitting with its tender little feet wrapped in an old cloth to keep it warm. The neighbors, having discovered the sad plight of the home, are doing all in their power to alleviate the sufferings of their unfortunate neighbors.

The worst storm for several months swept over this part of the country Saturday night and continued through Sunday, and a great deal of damage has resulted throughout the country.
From the balmy, summer-like weather of Saturday, to a great March-like blizzard with the thermometer hovering between 20 to 30 degrees above zero, was the extent of the big change in less than 18 hours' time. The mercury stood at 70 degrees Saturday afternoon, and in the evening the wind commenced blowing. This increased to a gale, while the mercury kept going downward, and the barometer took a big drop.
By midnight Saturday night the storm was raging, and a short time later the snow commenced falling. This continued until Sunday evening. Snow driven by the wind turned the entire country into a storm state which kept people by their firesides. So violently did the wind blow Saturday night that great damage to telephone wires resulted, while thousands of shocks of corn and fodder were scattered over the fields in utmost confusion.
The storm and sudden drop of nearly fifty degrees in temperature came so unexpectedly that thousands of head of live stock suffered greatly from the raging storm, being caught out in the pastures with no shelter. Those who were not prepared for such a sudden change, made hasty preparations to keep comfortable.

Steel Range Men
Canvass County

After several weeks scouring every nook and corner of the county, the steel range agents, nine in number, have finished their labors here and will next take up work out of Chillicothe.

These men take the range directly to the door of the farmer, and by expert salesmanship tactics invariably make a sale where there is a mere possibility. Just what the price is, has not been learned, but it is reported in excess of $60.

According to information at hand these agents have disposed of 200 of these ranges since they appeared in Fayette county this time, and leave with between $10,000 and $15,000 in their pockets, or rather in the vaults of the company, for there are several hundred of these agents sent out by the big firm for whom they are working.

Democrat Elected
Trustee in Paint

Mr. Al Smith, Democrat, was declared elected trustee over Jesse Hankins in Paint township. The unofficial count gave it to Hankins by three votes, but when the official count was announced, Smith was found to be nine votes ahead of his opponent.

It is somewhat unusual for a Democrat to be elected to such an office in Paint township, and it is said that Hankins' defeat was attributed to the part he took as trustee in the building of the new township house in Yatesville precinct.

Mr. Smith is well qualified for the position, and ranks well in the estimation of the people of Paint township.

High Power Wires
Grounded by Storm

During the violent wind storm about 2:30 Sunday morning some of the high power wires of the electric light system became crossed, burnt in twain and fell to the ground, causing the street lights to go out and leaving the city in darkness.

The repair men of the company were called from their beds and worked until late Sunday morning when the system was placed in order once more. The grounding of the high power wires placed the entire light circuit out of commission.

A MAIL CARRIER'S LOAD

Seems heavier when he has a weak back and kidney trouble. Fred Deuren, Mail Carrier at Atchison, Kas., says: "I have been bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and had a severe pain across my back. Whenever I carried a heavy load of mail, my kidney trouble increased. Some time ago I started taking Foley kidney pills and since taking them I have gotten entirely rid of all my kidney trouble and am as sound now as ever." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action and quick results. Try them. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Song Service at Presbyterian Church

Despite Sunday night's blizzard, a nice audience filled the Presbyterian church and was richly repaid by the beautiful song service rendered by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Werter Shoop.

It was an impressive service from the moment the white robed choir entered singing the processional, until the last echo of its harmonies proclaimed the end.

Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Hardin Hudson, of Gordonsville, Va., added greatly to both solo and chorus work. Mrs. Hudson, who as Miss Amy Wilson, had always been most generous with her clear sweet soprano, has never ceased to be missed from the Presbyterian choir. Rev. Hudson has a tenor of beautiful, rich quality and the two voices blended harmoniously in the duet, "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep."

Rev. Hudson also sang a very beautiful duet with Mrs. Werter Shoop, and a quartet, "Abide With Me," sung by Rev. and Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Mary Goldsberry Burgett and Mr. Walter Sprenger was exceedingly fine.

Mr. Carey Howland and Dr. Howard Stitt added to the program a well rendered violin duet.

The choir did excellent work in fine anthems, the anthem, "I Will Magnify Thy Name" with duet by Mrs. Hudson and Walter Sprenger specially good.

Mrs. Davis satisfactory organ work supported by the violins and cornet, contributed no small share to the success of the program.

Gale Sweeps Across The Central States

completely demolished. The wind came from the south, swooped down and demolished farmhouses and barns for several miles south of the village.

County Jail Demolished.

Virginia, Ill., Nov. 13. — The gale which swept Virginia destroyed a quarter of a million dollars' worth of property and injured 10 persons seriously and one fatally. The wind totally destroyed the new $50,000 brick Methodist church, a three-story hotel, Cramer's brick livery barn, lifted the upper stories from the opera house and Fisher building; wrecked the city hall, high school and Catholic church. When the jail was demolished Sheriff Widmayer took the prisoners to Jacksonville and Peardstown.

Two Killed; Score Injured.

Owosso, Mich., Nov. 13. — Two persons were killed, more than a score injured and a property loss estimated at $500,000 is the result of the tornado which struck Owosso. The dead are Harry Corwin, 30, and his wife, who were crushed to death as they lay in bed.

Seven Dead in Storm.

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 13. — At least seven lives were lost and scores of persons injured, some fatally, in a tornado which swept Rock county. Hundreds of thousands of dollars damage was done.

Several Lives Believed Lost.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 13. — Scores of lives were jeopardized during the storm which struck Mobile with the force of a hurricane, and it is believed several lives have been lost.

Religious Movement Is Now Well Started

Columbus in For Week of Religious Instruction.

Columbus, O., Nov. 13. — Three meetings are on today's program in the local Men and Religion Forward Movement now in progress here. This morning Rev. Dr. I. J. Lansing of Washington, social service expert, addressed a meeting of ministers. Late this afternoon there will be a conference of special committees and this evening there will be an interdenominational supper at Memorial hall, Fred B. Smith and team experts speaking.

At the opening session Mr. Smith declared that he believed he would see the day when the United States would be Christianized. "But," he added, "before that we must drive out the saloons, the white slave traffic, greed and graft."

Dr. Isaac J. Lansing explained the several phases of the movement in turn, and said: "At least 5,000 men, before a bit of work was done, endorsed the movement, which is deliberate. The object of the movement is to tell the living truth of a living God to living men in a living world."

Wool Report Is Now Ready

Tariff Board Will Say Duties Are Too High.

Washington, Nov. 13. — President Taft's tariff board will present figures which will warrant substantial reductions in the wool and cotton schedules in the Payne-Aldrich law. The board has not yet formulated its report on either of these schedules, but the final returns are being tabulated and there is no doubt among advisers of the administration that the findings of the board will point to a considerable lowering of the duties in these two schedules.

Three Houses Burn.

Marysville, O., Nov. 13. — Three residences at Richwood burned to the ground with most of their contents. Two of them were owned by Morris W. Hill, who was elected mayor of Richwood. The third house was owned by Mrs. Cordella Dewitt. The loss is about $4,000, with $1,000 insurance.

NOTED EDITOR DEAD

Pulitzer One of America's Foremost Publishers.

Although Stricken Blind Over Twenty Years Ago He Since Editorially Directed His Two Big Daily Newspapers.

Charleston, S. C. — Joseph Pulitzer, editor and proprietor of the New York World and the St. Louis Post Dispatch, died recently on board his yacht, Liberty, in the harbor here. He had been ill only about 48 hours and until just before he died it was believed that the illness was only a slight indisposition. His passing removed one of the greatest newspaper publishers of the age.

Late one afternoon 22 years ago, Joseph Pulitzer, then but forty-two years old, was leaning on the rail of a yacht as the boat was standing out of the Bosphorus and into the Black sea, looking toward the setting sun through eyes which for years had been strained, when he was stricken blind.

And for the last 20 years almost up to the moment of his death—he has been in constant touch with the morning and evening editions of his New York World and his Post-Dispatch of St. Louis, personally during his short and infrequent visits to Manhattan and by telegraph or cable while cruising here and abroad on his yacht.

Of late years he has spent most of his days aboard his palatial yacht, surrounded by a corps of readers and secretaries, who read the newspapers to him carefully and then carried out his orders. It was an ordinary occurrence for him to wake up his staff aboard the yacht at two or three o'clock in the morning to aid him in some work he had suddenly thought of.

Mr. Pulitzer was sixty-four years old. Besides three sons, Mr. Pulitzer leaves two daughters, Miss Edith Pulitzer and Miss Constance Pulitzer. Mr. Pulitzer's entry into New York journalism occurred in 1882, when he bought the World, then a paper of small circulation.

Prior to his debut as a newspaper man in 1870 Mr. Pulitzer had, for five years, worked in various capacities. Going to St. Louis at the close of the Civil war, after having been mustered out of the First New York cavalry after a year's service, he obtained his first employment as a deckhand on a ferryboat.

Afterward he did manual work on the levee, then became a hostler in the Benton barracks, and later became a waiter in a cafe.

Following this he had a place as a coachman, and through part of the cholera epidemic in the latter sixties he was a grave digger.

THIS LOUD EATER IS REBUKED

Pennsylvania Justice Roundly Lectures a Man on His Table Deportment.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa. — After making so much fuss while eating in a restaurant that he had started a quarrel, Walter Gordon of Duryear, was lectured severely by Alderman John F. Donohue of this city and told to return home and learn better table manners. "There are a great many fellows like you," said the alderman, "who come to this city and make themselves offensive to others by their lack of table manners in public places. They drink their coffee as if they were donkey pumps and eat their food with a noise like a concrete mixer at an asphalt plant."

"You ought to be sent to the county jail, where you could eat your beans with a knife and drink your soup with a fork. Next time you come here bring a handout with you, put it in a horse's nosebag and eat it on the river bank."

Train Cuts Off Sleeper's Hat.

Kewanee, Ill. — William McGregor, a peddler, fell asleep in the railroad yards and lay so close to the track that a passing train cut off his hat and chopped a suitcase full of clothing to bits. McGregor did not awaken.

Laughs at Show Till He Dies.

South Weymouth, Mass. — Literally splitting his sides with laughter while witnessing a comic opera in a Boston theater, Thomas M. Ryan of this place, ruptured a blood vessel near the heart and died.

Impaled on Shaft.

Marysville, O., Nov. 13. — Charles Goetz, 45, a baker of Milford Center, was instantly killed while returning home on his bicycle.
